

Paul's Secret Boulders

... are located in a wadi west of the ridge above NPZ (page xxx of "UAE Rock Climbing" and east of the Hafeet summit road and bizarre "Green Mubazzarah" amusement park, approached on a rough 4WD track (see map). Park where the track is crossed by a fence after about 3.5km. Crawl under the fence in the wadi bed then hike the continuation of the track until sector A is visible after about 300m. Sector B is another 200m further south. Keep a low profile and do not visit in a large group - access may be sensitive.

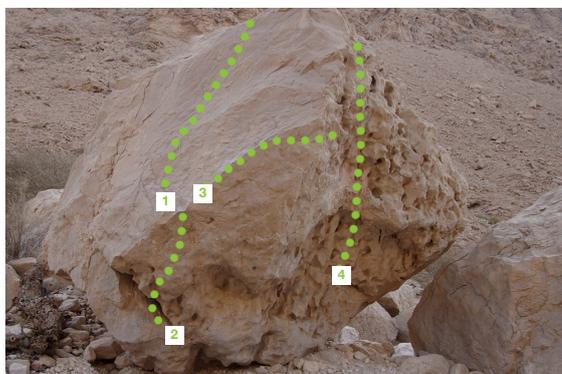

© Red Armada Publishing, 2012

1. V0
the right-side of the roof on obvious holds, from a stand-up start.
2. Toby's Roof V3
from a squat start on the shelf, reach from small undercut to large pockets on the lip, then traverse the lip to join 1.
3. V1
one big dynamic move, from a sit-start with hands on the obvious slanting edge.
4. V2
a couple of crimpy pulls, from a sit-start with right hand in the recessed side pull.
5. V2
more crimpy pulling, from a sit-start with right hand in a small pocket.

1. V1
the hanging slab from a stand-up start holding the obvious flat edges. Amazing friction.
2. V2
gain the flat edges on the slab by funky moves from a sit-start with hands in the diagonal crack.
3. Paul's Project V5?
pumpy technical link from the start-holds of 1. to finish in 4. with hands on the lip of the slab. Starting with 2. would be significantly harder

4. V0
the steep juggy face. Take care with some of the holds, especially at the top.